

WOMAN DIES AT GUERNSEY

WHEATLAND, Wyo.—Funeral services for Mrs. James A. Carmichael, 76, a resident of Guernsey for many years, who died there Tuesday, will be held here Friday from the Wheatland Methodist Church.

Mrs. Carmichael had been ill for 12 weeks.

Had she survived several months longer, Mrs. Carmichael could have celebrated her fifty-eighth wedding anniversary with her husband. They were married April 14, 1878.

Mrs. Carmichael was born at Jamestown, Ind., and when a young girl she moved with her parents to Missouri, where she grew to womanhood.

Besides her husband, she is survived by four children, Mrs. W. R. Taylor of Carthage, Mo.; Mrs. Lesta Williams, Craig, Mo.; Mrs. G. M. Worth of Wheatland, and O. G. Carmichael of Guernsey; and one sister, Mrs. J. T. Hanna of Lingle. Also surviving are 16 grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

The Rev. C. L. Morton of Guernsey will be in charge of services. Interment will be in Wheatland.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE)

WHEATLAND, Wyo.—Funeral services were held here Friday afternoon for Mrs. James A. Carmichael, 76, wife of "the father of Dwyer, Wyo.," who died at Guernsey Tuesday after a lingering illness.

Mrs. Carmichael was married at Ottawa County, Mo., in 1878. She and her husband came to Wyoming in 1914, settling at Dwyer. Carmichael has been called "father" of Dwyer because he was instrumental in settling 135 families in that section between 1914 and 1917.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Carmichael is survived by four children, Mrs. B. M. Worth of Wheatland; Mrs. Leslie Williams, of St. Joseph, Mo.; Mrs. Walter Taylor of Carthage, Mo., and Guy Carmichael, of Dwyer.

Services were held at the Methodist Episcopal Church here. Burial was in the Wheatland cemetery. The Friday funeral was the twenty-sixth in this small community since Jan. 1.
