

Funeral for Mrs. Mary
H. Carroll Held Here
Thursday Afternoon

4-1927
The last rites of one of the West's early pioneer women, Mrs. Mary H. Carroll, who died Sunday at midnight known to local residents as "Grandma Carroll" were held at the Congregational church at two o'clock this afternoon with Rev. D. Powell officiating. The Watson Mortuary was in charge of arrangements. Interment was made in the Wheatland cemetery. Mrs. Carrol is survived by five children, three sons and two daughters, all of whom were present at the funeral and twelve grandchildren and twenty great grandchildren.

OBITUARY

Miss Mary Price, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Price was born May 9 1844 at South Bend, Ind., and left for Denver, later Golden, Colo., with her parents on May 17, 1859, arriving in Denver, June 12, 1859. The Price family is reputed to have lived in the third log cabin built within the present site of Denver. Shortly thereafter the Prices moved to Golden where Mrs. Carrol spent her youth on the western border of civilization. Just before the Civil War broke out in 1860 she married William Carrol, and to this union were born ten children, five of whom are living and survive their mother.

Mr. Carrol saw service in the company M. 1st Colorado Volunteers which unit remained at home to protect the settlements from attacks of the Indians. Mrs. Carrol was a staunch mother who fought her way through the rugged west and to whom a great deal of credit is due for persistency and endeavor to rear a family amidst adverse surroundings in a Christian atmosphere. Forty years were spent by Mr. and Mrs. Carrol on Ralston creek near Golden, Colo. Grandma Carrol has been a resident of Wheatland for nearly sixteen years. Her husband died eight years ago. She leaves to mourn her loss three sons, George and James Carrol of Wheatland; B. H. Carrol of Lemore, Calif., two daughters, Mrs. Coll Morrison of Wheatland and Mrs. Edith Emens of Victor, Colo., twelve grandchildren and twenty great grandchildren.

B. H. Carrol arrived from Lemore, Calif.; Wednesday evening to attend the funeral. Mrs. Florence Farnsworth and Mrs. Evelyn Woods of Denver were also present at the funeral.
