

COLLINS, GRACE MAE SIDWELL

May 7, 1882-June 19, 1951

Grace Mae Collins, wife of Dr. W.H. Collins, succumbed early Tuesday morning in Cheyenne Memorial hospital, after an illness of several months.

Services will be conducted at 2:00 o'clock Friday afternoon in the Congregational church, the Rev. W. James Hoare officiating, and Schraders in charge of arrangements. Graveside rites at the cemetery will be conducted by the Wheatland O.E.S.

Born in Keota, Ia., Mrs. Collins came to Wheatland in 1919 and had been a tireless worker in the Congregational church, the Dorcus society, and Order of Eastern Star. She was a talented pianist and organist.

Besides her husband she leaves a son, Willard of Cheyenne; a brother, Dr. C.E. Sidwell of Longmont, Colo.; a sister, Miss Dessie Sidwell of Longmont; and two grandchildren. Her parents, one brother and one son preceded her in death.
