

This information and more is contained in a search warrant obtained by 9News. According to the document, a maintenance man at the Primrose Motel saw a car driven by Dean pull up to the Federal Boulevard establishment around noon on May 31. Dean is said to have dismounted from the vehicle, then opened the hatch for Cozad, who was swaddled in plastic wrap from her stomach to her feet, but with both legs sheathed separately, so she could walk. The maintenance man told investigators he'd asked Cozad if she was okay, and she responded that she was. The next morning, the car was gone and Cozad's body was in unit 1 of the Primrose "tucked into a couch," 9News reports. Cozad died from blunt force trauma to her head and neck. The warrant also maintains that on June 1, Urioste allegedly used Cozad's credit card at a local storage facility-one reason the charges against him and Dean include robbery. Also noted in the document are text messages between Cozad and Urioste that followed their meeting in the mental-health facility's parking lot. Some of them were sexually explicit, investigators say.
