

Delores P. (Alloway) Green

Delores P. (Alloway) Green died on Nov. 29, 1980 at St. Lukes Hospital in Denver, Colo. She was born Feb. 20, 1910, to Lewis and Alda Alloway in Bonesteel, S.D. She attended a country school west of Carter, S.D. and high school in Winner, S.D.

In 1930 Delores moved to Platte County, Wyo. She lived in the Wheatland-Guernsey area until 1960 when she married Robley Green.

Her husband's work in road construction took them to Colorado, Arizona and Wyoming until his retirement. Then Rob and Delores Green settled in Lochbuie, Colo. Delores' husband, Rob, died eight months ago on Mar. 31, 1980.

Delores is survived by her son, Wesley Cornell, of Brighton, Colo.; two brothers, Everett and Gene Alloway, both of Casper; and by four grandchildren, John W. Cornell of Denver, David Cornell of Brighton, Julianne Cornell of Ft. Lupton, and Dianne O'Leary of Brighton. Delores had two great grandchildren; Danife and Corinne O'Leary. Delores was preceded in death by her parents; one sister, Agnes Alloway; one brother, Howard Alloway; and one son, Glenn Cornell.