

JONES, GEORGE EDGAR
October 24, 1879-June 15, 1953

George Edgar Jones, 73, a retired farmer residing in Wheatland, suffered a fatal heart attack in his home late Monday evening, June 15, as he worked in his garden. Born in Kentucky, October 24, 1879, Mr. Jones had lived in and near Wheatland since 1931, having worked for the city at one time.

He was a member of the Baptist church in which he had served as deacon for many years. The deceased was a Spanish-American war veteran and was also affiliated with the Modern Woodman lodge.

Surviving members of the family include his wife, Mary; three daughters, Myrle Wakely, Cheyenne, Ocia Jones, Wheatland, and Margaret McGowan, Birmingham, Ala.; three sons, Fred, Townsend, Mont., Henry, Denver and Basil, Portland, Ore.; and one sister, Mrs. Lance Guthrie, Wheatland. There are also 17 grandchildren. One son preceded his father in death in 1925.
