

selective service in World War II in 1946. He faithfully served in the Wheatland Congregational church as trustee and the Cheyenne church as deacon.

For the final services on Friday, pall bearers will be A.L. Kendig and Herbert Christensen of Wheatland, Arthur Kline of Cheyenne, A.R. Williams of Ft. Collins, Colo., T.I. Baxter of Windsor, Colo., and Frank Whiting of Loveland, Colo.

The honorary pallbearers are M.A. Kline and Judge Sam Thompson of Cheyenne, Melvin Anderson of Denver, J.A. Cole, R.A. Ferguson, G.W. Goodrich, E.C. Judson, Kenneth Brighton, Doyle Hutchinson, C.E. Artist, Don Sherard, Charles Goyen, Charles Zohner, Harry Dearing, C.A. Havens, H.T. Fis, A.R. Fish, Howard Fish, Gene Perkins, Orvel Bridgmon, Ben Cossman, W.B. Jones, James Irvine, Homer Hoffman, Bernard Bowen, C.G. Buechner, A.E. Hoffman, Dr. W.H. Collins, M.R. Foe, Al Erlandson, James Chaplin, Charles Klassert, Dr. O.B. Wilson, Arthur Rugg, N.F. Hester, M.A. Thrasher, Ed Hall, Bob Russell, Sam Isabel, Harold Loomis, C.C. Houston, J.E. Holmes, Thomas Gibb, Arlo Goodrich, Frank Wood, Lew Hall, Bill Redfern and R.M. Ferguson.

The Masonic lodge will be in charge of the graveside rites.

Besides Mrs. Natwick, he leaves a son, Oscar Ole Natwick, Jr., of Worland, two daughters, Margaret of Forest Hills, N.Y. and Mrs. Bruce Douglass of Rochester, Minn.; eight sisters, Mrs. Ellen Riese and Mrs. Anna Mills of Seattle, Wash., Mrs. John Hammer of Hillsboro, Wisc., and Misses Olga, Cora, Amanda, Hannah and Tilda Natwick, all of Viroqua, Wisc.; and three grandchildren.

Another daughter, Christine, preceded him in death in 1927.