RUBY, MARY MARJORY GRAVES
September 2, 1901-August 3, 1983

Services for Mary Marjory Ruby, 81, who died Aug. 3, in Wheatland were held Friday in the Schrader-Prell Funeral Chapel with the Rev. Andrew Green officiating.

Mary Marjory Ruby was born Sept. 2, 1901 in Burlington Center, Mo., the daughter of Joseph and Emma Black Graves.

At the age of seven she moved with her family to Wyoming where she was reared and educated at Alva.

While visiting in Montana, she met Frank Ruby, and they were married in Belle Fourche, S.D., in 1920.

The couple lived in Nebraska for 30 years where Mr. Ruby operated the Rush Creek Land and Cattle Company. In 1950 they came to Wheatland to operate a ranch where the Basin Electric Plant now stands. Mary has spent the last seven years in retirement in Wheatland.

Survivors include her daughters, Helen Brown of Wheatland and Phyllis Terich of LaVerne, Cal., and a sister, Eula Bee Deckelman of Victorville, Cal.

She was preceded in death by her husband, a brother, two sisters and three half-sisters.

A memorial in her name has been established to the Wheatland Ambulance Fund.

Interment was in the Wheatland Cemetery.

Schrader-Prell Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.
