

WELCH, RALPH C.
1903-February 17, 1952

Earl Wilson, alias Ralph C. Todd (Brownie), who had been employed at the Mick Miller ranch for the past three weeks, died early last Sunday from a heart attack.

The true identity of Wilson, apparently 49 years of age, is yet to be established by the local authorities.

Wilson told of being employed by a large sheep outfit in Montana for 11 years, working near Glendo, and also having employment with the Warren Livestock company for three years. None of these firms has been able to identify Wilson under the name of Todd.

Sheriff Sutherland described Wilson as 5 ft. 8 inches tall, weighing about 165 lbs., having brown hair and brown eyes and two scars, one on his neck below his ear and the other under his chin.

Fingerprints were sent to the FBI for further leads.

Funeral services will be delaying pending identification of the deceased.
